

THREE STATES FIGHT PLAN OF TOBACCO TRUST

Attorneys-General of Virginia and the Carolinas File a Protest in Federal Court.

SAYS IT HAS NO MERIT.

Insist That Proposed "Disintegration" Would Not Destroy the Present Monopoly.

Attorneys-General Williams of Virginia, Pickett of North Carolina and Lyon of South Carolina today filed a petition of protest in the United States Circuit Court against the proposed disintegration plan of the Tobacco Trust.

After setting forth that the States they represent are among the largest tobacco growing States in the Union, where hundreds of thousands of people cultivate tobacco as their chief if not their only means of support, the attorneys-general declare that for a number of years the Tobacco Trust has arbitrarily fixed the price of tobacco and put the growers in a state of financial servitude.

The plans submitted to this Court by the American Tobacco Company, says the petition, which seeks with hostility, "does not have the merit of even looking like a dissolution of the combination or a destruction of the monopoly. The plan is a bold attempt to nullify the judgment of the Court. It turns loose no asset and no agency by which it now maintains its absolute dominion over the tobacco trade. Its service for power and its utter unwillingness to surrender its grip is strikingly illustrated in its refusal to give up one of the least of its subsidiary companies—the R. P.
Richardson Jr. & Co., Inc."

The plan proposed maintains a community of interest between all the companies it is proposed to create and this makes real competition between them impossible. In its patent failure to separate into independent entities, in the utter absence of a serious effort to restore the competition which has been destroyed, the plan falls far short of the primary and imperative requirement of the Court.

A fundamental error in the plan is that in determining where the ultimate control of the several companies will reside it distinguishes between the common stock held by the twenty-nine individual defendants and that held by other individuals not named as parties in this cause. This distinction is wholly arbitrary. The finding of the Court reaches every common stockholder and taints every share of the common stock with the vice of illegality.

If the twenty-nine individual defendants are to bear the sins of the whole company they should be put into a class and company all to themselves, and the other companies should be left free from their unwholesome influence.

The attorneys-general insist that there are no insurmountable difficulties in the way of an "actual division" of the assets of the Tobacco Trust, and the formation of new corporations having no connection with each other either in ownership or in control.

The genius that could triumph over bitter rivalries, over international pride and prejudices and reduce a thousand warring elements to a compact harmonious unit, says the petition, "would find it easy to accomplish an equitable partition if it would concentrate its energies upon that task. The difficulty of an equitable partition lies not so much in the inability as in the unwillingness to make one."

Give to the fourteen companies proposed the elements of complete independence; forbid the stockholders in any one of these companies from holding stock in any of the others and perpetually enjoin them from acquiring such stock, and a condition will be created in compliance with the judgment of the Court.

"If 'A' holds fourteen shares of common stock of the American Tobacco Company, what is the necessity for allowing to him a single share in fourteen different corporations? Why not give him his entire holdings in a single company? Possibly he would then have an incentive to give some attention to the management of his company."

"The necessary and doubtless sought for result of distributing the holdings of each individual among a large number of companies would be to render indifferent the 5,000 small stockholders and leave the real control of all the companies in the hands of the twenty-nine individual defendants and a few other individuals not named as defendants, but who have always been allied with or under the control of the twenty-nine."

PICKING POCKETS ORGANIZED TRADE, HE WRITES COURT

Thomas Mack, Awaiting Sentence, Reveals Secrets of Bands in Plea for Clemency.

Thomas Mack, a convicted pickpocket, in the Tombs awaiting sentence, sent a letter today to Judge Swann of the Court of General Sessions proceeding for clemency. Incidentally he revealed that the business of picking pockets in this city is an organized industry in which elaborate plans are laid to save pickpockets from imprisonment.

Mack is suffering from tuberculosis.
He begs for a short sentence so he may die out of jail. Judge Swann will call him up for sentence tomorrow.
On July 6, 1909, Mack was arrested at the Polo Grounds charged with stealing money from the pocket of a baseball fan. He was indicted for grand larceny and bail was fixed at $1,000. The pickpocket disappeared and the bond was forfeited, but it was found to be a worthless bond. On Aug. 22 last Mack was arrested again at the Polo Grounds, was brought to trial on the old indictment and convicted.

INSIDE STORY OF POCKET-PICK-ING AS TOLD BY MACK.
"I was one of a 'mob' of four pickpockets," Mack wrote to Judge Swann.
"Every 'mob' working in New York has a leader or a set of leaders prepared to get the members out of trouble."
"Our men were two brothers named Cohen, who hung out in a saloon at First street and Second avenue. Our arrangement was that the minute any of the 'mob' got arrested the Cohen brothers were to be notified at once. Other gangs of pickpockets had the same arrangement with them. The Cohens arranged for bail and got $100 for each bond furnished."

"As soon as I was arrested the Cohens were notified. They worked fast and got me out of jail that same night. A man named Fleishman, whom I had never seen, went on the bond, which I supposed was all right."
"The next day I met the Cohens.
They sent me to a man named Max Sulkes, who had a real estate office at No. 139 Delancey street. Sulkes told me he had a strong pull with District Attorney Jerome and could get my case discharged for $75."

"I gave him $75. A week later he sent for me and told me the indictment was dead and that I could go anywhere I pleased. I didn't know the bond was bad until I was arrested two months ago."

Judge Swann says that various persons have called to see him in Mack's behalf, urging a suspended sentence.
These persons advanced the argument that there are two charges against Mack in Boston, and if he should be released here he will be taken at once to that city to stand trial. But Judge Swann has not been quite certain that Mack would voluntarily subject himself to the chance of arrest in Boston if he could possibly get away here.

The Quickest Cough Cure—Cheap, But Unequalled

A Whole Pint of It for 50c. Saves You 50c.
Does the Work Quickly or Money Refunded.

For quick and positive results, the pint of cough syrup that you make with a 50-cent bottle of Pinex, cannot be equalled.
It takes hold instantly, and will usually stop the most obstinate deep-seated cough in less than 24 hours. Even a dry, whooping cough yields to it quickly.

The user of Pinex mixes it with homemade sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint—a family supply—of better cough remedy than you could buy ready mixed for $2.50. Easily prepared in 5 minutes —full directions in package.

Pinex soothes and heals the inflamed membranes with remarkable rapidity. It stimulates the appetite, is slightly laxative, and tastes good—children like it. Excellent for whooping cough, bronchitis and other throat troubles, and has a wonderful record in cases of incipient lung trouble.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of Norway White Pine extract, rich in balsam and other natural healing pine elements. Simply mix with sugar syrup or strained honey, in a pint bottle and it is ready for use. Used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy.

Pinex has often been imitated, but never produces the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Certificate of guarantee is wrapped in each package. Your druggist has Pinex or write to: The Pinex Co., P. O. Box 100, St. Wayne, Ind.

GOING TO JOIN WIFE, MAN WRITES AS HE SHOOTS HIMSELF

Electrical Firm Employee Had Been Despondent Since
She Died Recently.

Pierre Guot, an employee of the electrical firm of E. F. Caldwell & Co., No.
23 West Fifteenth street, wrote this note today:

"I am going to join my wife. Please keep everything quiet and out of the newspapers."

Then, seated in a chair in his apartment at No. 321 West Fifty-fifth street, he took a hand mirror in one hand and a revolver in the other. With the aid of the mirror he sent a bullet accurately to the center of his brain.

A bellboy was sent to the room to notify Guot that a telephone call had been received for him. The boy could not arouse the tenant and the manager of the house had the door broken.
Near the dead body were four letters.
Two were addressed to Charles L. Willard of No. 154 Fifth avenue. Mr. Willard is a brother-in-law of Guot. The other two were addressed to George Etesse, an employee of the electrical company to which the suicide was attached.

Representatives of the Caldwell firm said Guot was a high salaried man and that his death was due to the despondency into which he was thrown by the death of his wife some months ago. Four months ago the firm sent him to France in an effort to relieve his mental condition.

He returned to the city a week ago.
Mr. Willard took charge of the body.
He said he knew no reason why Guot should have killed himself.

ALOON-KEEPER HELD FOR KILLING "FLY PIGEON JIM."

Shot Member of Rag Tail Gang
When He Was Held Up
With Night's Receipts.

Joseph Trieweller, a saloonkeeper of No. 1235 Second avenue, who shot and killed James Croke early yesterday, was held by Coroner Feinberg today under $25,000 bond. Trieweller at his examination said Croke was known as "Fly Pigeon Jim," and was a member of the Rag Tail Gang, which makes its headquarters in the neighborhood of Second avenue and Sixty-fifth street. He said the gang had threatened him many times.

Trieweller had counted up his cash yesterday morning, and with his wife was leaving the barroom when they encountered a number of men who, Trieweller says, tried to rob him. He fired and Croke fell with a bullet in his neck. He died at the Presbyterian Hospital a few minutes later.

15 DROWNED IN WRECK.

Members of Crew Lost When Greek Steamer Strikes.

ROCHESTER, France, Oct. 22.—The Greek steamer Georgios, grain-laden, was wrecked at the entrance of the Gironde estuary during a storm last night. Of the crew of twenty-two only seven were saved. Several bodies have been washed ashore.
